

Client Case Study: Distribution

Trigger

Required to ramp up core project team for new SAP SMB implementation.

Company Background

This is a Canadian based company that manufacturer's furniture for Home Electronics, it has shipped furniture to 17 countries, both large and small retailers, and on a private label basis to nearly every major consumer electronics company in North America.

Business Problem/Challenge

The two main challenges faced by this company were:

- Project team members requiring quick ramp-up for rapid SMB implementation
- Training budget is limited

Solution

We delivered our Product Supply – Integration Faststart 5 day course. This course provided participants with knowledge of the configuration elements and hands-on opportunities creating master data and performing transactions in the Finance, Controlling, Materials Management and Production Planning modules. The final day of the training is devoted to integration testing, where participants work through several common business scenarios to test their model company data in the system and experience and troubleshoot live SAP errors.

Our Value

Reasons for our training success include:

- Our SAP Subject Matter expertise and solid instruction skills
- The design of our course content in a case study approach that provides an intense integration testing, that the client found was a valuable & vital experience for the new users.
- Our committed Bootcamp delivery team and support systems, ensuring a smooth end-to-end delivery.

For more information contact:

Nicole Summers (IBM Learning Content - Practice Leader)
nicole.l.summers@ca.ibm.com; office number (403) 539-3989